Notice of Student Responsibility for Acadeum Partnership Registration

The registered student is responsible for the course tuition and fees and understanding course start and end dates and drop dates as provided by the host school. This information is available via your Acadeum login on the course details page. Failure to drop within the posted drop period, as listed by the host school, may result in a failing grade and no refund. Once a course drop date has passed, Marian is responsible for paying the host school out of the funds we receive from the student, regardless of the course being completed. In the event the host school does have a posted drop that applies to the > student account and/or loss of any refund refunded at any point. Failure to attend of enrollment, unless that is the policy of the > Drop/withdrawal from course registration MUHUB. Failure to notify the Registrar's o registration and a failing final grade.

Students who drop, withdraw or fail two or more courses through the partnership will not be eligible for future Acadeum enrollment.
